Reasons to use a RISCO Lockbox system when selling your house-

The RISCO lock box system is a simple, convenient, reliable device using infrared technology in a compact, easy to use and a fully-secured design.

From RISCO: “The patented key container removal system utilizes a ‘screw drive’ much like a garage door opener. This means the RediSAFE motor driven shackle and key tray will operate even when covered with ice. The RediSAFE puts the power and ease of technology in a compact key safe that makes it almost impossible to break into, drill through, cut open, steal or ‘jimmy’.”

The RediSAFE is covered in a soft plastic to help protect your door from scratching. In addition to the security provided by the RediSAFE, the technology allows your REALTOR® to track who has been in your house. This is useful to know how often it has been shown in a particular timeframe, or when something has happened in your house.

By using the RISCO RediSAFE system, your listing will be accessible to REALTORS all along the Wasatch Front and will give it the maximum exposure possible for a quick closing.
